CRAFTS OF GUJARAT

SUF EMBROIDERY

Suf is a painstaking embroidery based on the triangle, called a "suf." Suf is counted on the warp and weft of the cloth in a surface satin stitch worked from the back. Motifs are never drawn. Each artisan imagines her design, then counts it out-in reverse!

APPLIQUE

Applique is an intricate textile artistry that involves affixing an extra fabric onto a base material, expertly folding and securing its edges through slip-stitching. This technique often employs vibrant, eye-catching cloth pieces, which are meticulously arranged to form geometric designs or inspired by the beauty of nature.

MACRAME

Macramé is a crafting technique that involves knotting cords or strings into decorative patterns. Originating from ancient times, it creates beautiful home decor items like wall hangings, plant holders, and jewelry.

TERRACOTTA

In the Sabarkantha district of Gujarat, in the town of Poshina, is where you will see the finest display of terracotta work in Gujarat. Thousands of terracotta horses stand in rows in a tribal shrine in Poshina, as offerings to the local Goddess.

CRAFTS OF GUJARAT

HAND EMBROIDERY

Gujarat is famous for its rich diversity of embroideries created by women from different rural communities. These embroideries display the vibrancy and abundance of colors and patterns. There are 12 different types of embroideries done in the Kutch region.

LEATHER CRAFT

The Meghwals of Rajasthan migrated to Kachchh, bringing an artful leather craft with them. The trade was kept alive by a partnership with nomadic pastoralist Maldharis. When a Maldharis' cattle died, the Meghwals converted the raw hides into leather and gave new life to waste, transforming it into a product of utility.

BHUJODI WEAVING

A well-known craft from the Kutch region of Gujarat derives its name from "Bhujodi"; one of the oldest and biggest artisan villages. It is home to the Vankars (weavers) who weave a 500-year old story into every shawl, every blanket and every stole. The speciality of the weave is how they use simple, geometric motifs to create a piece of art.

AGATE STONE CARVING

Akik or Agate work has been in practice in Gujarat for the last three centuries. Erstwhile seaport of Khambhat was the centre of Akik artisanship. Even today, artisans of Khambhat are practicing in this unique craft.

CRAFTS OF GUJARAT

TANGALIYA WEAVING

Also known as Daana weaving, it is a traditional craft practiced predominantly in the Surendranagar, Gujarat. This intricate form of weaving, primarily undertaken by the Dangasia community, demands a high level of skill and precision. The unique technique involves twisting tiny dots of extra weft around multiple warp threads, creating a bead embroidery effect on the fabric.

BAMBOO WEAVING

Tribal belt of Gujarat has it's unique identity in creating good articles from bamboo work. It is a visual treat to see how artisans are transforming simple bamboo sticks into magnificent products like furniture, boxes, baskets, mats, musical instruments etc.

MASHRU

The weaving tradition of Mashru from Patan is a unique textile art that masterfully blends cultural aesthetics with practical functionality. Originating from the historic town of Patan in Gujarat, India; Mashru fabric is renowned for its striking combination of silk and cotton. This weaving technique features intricate patterns where glossy silk threads dominate the outer surface, while soft cotton lines the inner surface, ensuring comfort against the skin.
